How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound, it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. ## Climate and Crop Bulletin

Of the Weather Bureau, Missouri Section, U. S. Department of Agriculture, for the Week Ending August 13, 1901.

The past week averaged considerably warmer than usual throughout the greater part of the state, the excess in temperature being most marked in the western sections where it was about 5 degrees per day. The weather has been generally clear and little or no rain has fallen, except in a few localities in the western and northern sections, where moderately heavy showers fell on the 29th, portions of Johnson, Linn and Putnam counties receiving 1 to 1 1/2 inches.

The continued hot and dry weather has caused a further, and in some sections rapid, decline in the general condition of the corn crop. Cutting has been commenced in all sections and will become quite general during the coming week. In many localities in the central and southern sections fully half the crop is already in shock. In some localities the fodder has been greatly damaged by chinch bugs. While there is some late corn that will not mature before October 1, the bulk of the crop will be out of danger from frost by September 15. Cotton is now doing fairly well and picking has commenced in Dunklin county. Late sown forage crops and gardens are making good growth in some localities, but in most sections they are suffering for rain, and in many counties are about dried up. Pastures are reported in fairly good condition in a few of the extreme western, and have improved considerably in a number of the extreme southeastern counties; elsewhere they continue dry and bare. Stock water continues scarce in most sections. Plowing for wheat is nearly completed in many of the central and western counties, but in portions of the eastern sections very little has yet been done. A little wheat has been sown in a few counties, but in general the soil is too dry for seeding. Reports indicate that in many of the southwestern counties an unusually large acreage of wheat will be sown. A fairly good crop of apples will be secured in some of the western and southern counties, though there is some complaint of sunburning and in localities they are dropping badly. In many counties the peach crop will be much better than was expected.

A. E. HACKETT, Section Director.

Mothers write us that they have solved the problem of keeping their children well. Give them Rocky Mountain Tea each week. A blessing to mother and child. Ask your druggist.

Stick To It.

Stick to it; this is the great secret of success in whatever undertaking you may engage; never give up; always have full confidence in yourself and you will be pretty sure to come out on top of the pile. Stick to it is exemplified in history. The Greeks before Troy stuck to it and they captured the place; the allied forces stuck before Sebastopol and the supposedly impregnable fortress fell into their hands. Orant stuck to it, and his sticking to it and his sledge hammer blows caused the strife among brothers to cease when nearly everybody had begun to give up hope. Another point is to have faith in your order, if you have not no one else will. Look at things in a rosy light, even if prospects appear anything but bright. It is the pleasant business man that has the trade; it is the pleasant physician who cures more patients than the one with the scowl and frown of an over-important demeanor; it is the pleasant teacher who succeeds best with her scholars, and who gains their love, and it is the pleasant man who is the healthiest, not the cross and crabbed man who never knows a bit of pleasure, but is like the owl, ever scowling.—Oregon Reporter.
